KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HOLD DISTRICT MEET

Eight Lodges Represented at Gathering Held in Grenada Tuesday in Effort to Renew Interest in Grenada Lodge.

In an effort to awaken interest in the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias, which has been inactive for some time, Dr. W. P. Ferguson, chancellor commander, issued a call several days ago for a district meeting to be held in Grenada last Tuesday night. Dr. Ferguson, assisted by Fred M McDonald, of Okolona, past grand commander, had been working among local Knights for some days prior to the meeting and interest in the meet was keyed to the highest pitch. Including the thirty or more Grenada Knights, there was an attendance of one hundred at the gathering which was held in the Masonic Temple. Members from eight different lodges were here.

Following the call to order by the commander, Mayor W. S. P. Doty extended the visitors a most cordial welcome to Grenada and during the course of his remarks he paid a high tribute to what the organization has accomplished here and elsewhere. A. J. Brewerton, of Greenwood, district deputy grand chancellor, was then presented and the gavel was turned over to him.

Mr. McDonald explained the object of the call for a district meeting and he urged upon his hearers the importance of instilling new life into the Grenada lodge.

He was followed by several other visitors, each of whom made short but inspiring talks. The principal address of the occasion was made by Hon. N. E. Wilroy, of Hernando, grand vice commander, and what he had to say was enjoyed by all.

Following the conferring of the rank of Page by the celebrated Greenwood team, a delicious banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

DR. R. A. TUCKER DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

The Rev. R. A. Tucker, for years one of the most prominent figures in the Methodist Church in Mississippi, died in Memphis Sunday at the Methodist Hospital.

Dr. Tucker had been ill, seriously, for four weeks. In that time he underwent three operations. He failed to rally from the last of these operations and died peacefully Sunday afternoon. He was 52 years old.

Dr. Tucker's entire life was spent in close contact with the Methodist Church. He was the son of the Rev. R. H. Tucker, for many years a leader of the North Mississippi conference.

Born at Corinth, Miss., he received his early education in the public schools of that city, and later attended Southern Union College at Greensboro, Ala. There he received his first degree and, a short time after his graduation, was ordained. That was in 1896.

Dr. Tucker's early training proved of value to him and he rose rapidly in his chosen field. During his life he served as pastor of many of the conference's largest churches and upon several of the more important boards of the church institutions.

He was a member of the general conference of the church at Hot Springs, Ark., in 1922, and represented the church again in 1924 when the special unification session was held at Chattanooga.

Among the churches of which he was pastor during his life were those at Columbus, Grenada, Greenwood, Kosciusko, and Sardis. He was named presiding elder of the Grenada district in 1920 and had formerly served in a similar capacity in the Holly Springs district.

His death creates a vacancy in the presidency of the North Conference Board of Missions and on the board of managers and trustees of the Methodist Hospital in Memphis.

Last year he was honored by both Millsaps College and Southern University of Birmingham. Both institutions conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him.

Dr. Tucker is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Applewhite, of Brookhaven, Miss., three sisters, Mrs. Mose Williams and Mrs. R. Millard of West Point, Miss., and Mrs. George Jones, Baton Rouge, La., and two brothers, the Rev. E. A. Tucker, presiding elder of the Lexington district of the Memphis conference, and M. A. Tucker of Aberdeen, Miss.

CONVICTED FOR HUNTING SQUIRRELS OUT OF SEASON

J. L. Harrison, of Coffeeville, was convicted after a trial by jury in Esquire W. P. Hamsley's court last Friday on the charge of hunting squirrels out of season. The charge was brought against Mr. Harrison by R. E. Hall, county game warden, who made his affidavit on information and belief. The defendant was fined $50 and costs.

SERVICES AT ALL SAINTS

The Sentinel has been requested to announce that Rev. J. H. Boosey, Episcopal rector at Batesville, Ark., will preach at All Saints Church in Grenada next Sunday, March 3, at both morning and evening services, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. An invitation is extended the general public.

House Passes Bill For New Judgeship

New Federal Court District in Mississippi Created by Passage of Bill Introduced by Senator Stephens. President Coolidge Expected to Sign Bill and Make Appointment This Week. Many Applicants Are Seeking Plum.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The bill creating a new Federal judgeship for Northern Mississippi passed the House late today. It had previously passed the Senate, where it was introduced by Senator Stephens of Mississippi, and now goes to the president.

It has been long recognized that one Federal judge for Mississippi is not able to clear the court dockets and that it is a serious hardship on Judge E. R. Holmes to perform the judicial duties which confront him in holding court for the entire state. Senator Stephens' bill was approved by both Attorney General Sargent and Chief Justice Taft. The attorney general, in a letter to the committee of the House, said he knew of no state where an additional judge was needed more than in Mississippi.

There is much speculation in Washington as to the identity of the new judge. The question at once arises as to whether President Coolidge or President-elect Hoover will make the appointment. The impression here is that President Coolidge will name the new judge before he retires March 4. In this case, the appointment will come before the week is out.

There are a large number of applicants for the place and a majority of them are Democrats, although the appointment is to be made by a Republican president. Some feel that Senator Stephens will have a big voice in the appointment. Senator Stephens disclaims this honor.

Several of the applicants for the new judgeship are already in Washington, in anticipation of early action on the appointment. Some of them have been here for two weeks or more. A number of those on the ground are "Hoover Democrats," having supported the incoming president. How much weight that will have with President Coolidge, in the event he makes the appointment, it is impossible to forecast.

Little credence is given to rumors that Senator Stephens himself would be appointed, although it is conceded that the position is his for the asking.

His political antagonism to Governor Bilbo, who would be given the privilege of naming Senator Stephens' successor should he retire, together with the fact that he will be sworn in March 4 for a new term following his election last fall, eliminates Senator Stephens from consideration, his friends declare.

CHARGE NEW MEMBERS

P. T. Lagrone, Dr. R. A. Clanton and J. B. Keeton, three new members who have just been added to the roll of the Grenada Rotary Club, received their charge at the luncheon of the club Tuesday noon. C. H. Calhoon, past president and a charter member of the local organization, delivered the charge and it was a most impressive one. He spoke of the growth of Rotary from its founding 24 years ago and he told of what a great influence it is wielding in the world today. He explained why Rotary takes only one representative from each business or profession yet pointed out that Rotary is not an exclusive organization but rather is it inclusive. He showed what Rotary means to the individual and to the community and he quoted the code of ethics to show what is hoped to be attained by Rotary. He laid especial emphasis on attendance at the meetings and he cautioned the new members against the use of formality in addressing a fellow-member.

Each of the three made a most happy and appropriate response to the charge and each expressed his pleasure at becoming a Rotarian.

L. D. Boone, of Memphis, J. W. Lauderdale, of Grenada, and Rotarian George S. Granberry, of Greenwood, were guests at the luncheon.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the relatives and friends, Dr. Avent and the other doctors, for their kind attention, Mrs. Arthur Laster and Grenada Hospital nurses, for their many kindnesses, during my sister's illness. May God bless each of you. My sister joins me in this expression,

Your true friend,
MARY H. KNOX.

Demonstration Work Again Comes To The Forefront For Discussion Pro And Con By Grenada Countians

Seventeen Citizens, Who Think Will of Voters Not Being Carried Out, Issue Call for Mass Meeting Monday in Hope to Reinstate Extension Work. Unique Situation Presented. Lady Asks Publication of Editorial Favoring Agents. R. N. Brooks, Who Opposes Work, Says Supervisors Should Be Commended Instead of Lowering Salaries. Proposes Public Subscription to Increase Agents' Pay.

Archives of History

To All Parties Interested in Demonstration Work in Grenada County:

There was an election called for the purpose of voting for or against Demonstration Work in Grenada County this past fall. This election was carried by the country districts. The wishes of the voters have not been carried out and we want you to meet with us in the court house at Grenada on the first Monday in March at 11 a. m. to see if we cannot work out some plan to put this work back on.

Signed: R. N. Perry, B. J. Anderson, Vassar Dubard, H. H. Marter, Eugene Gillon, W. H. McCormick, N. B. Jacks, Walter Gray, Dr. F. B. Coats, E. L. Boteler, W. F. Martin, R. W. Jones, Joe Harris, Mrs. J. L. Elliott, L. T. Hayden, W. H. Gully, W. B. Rook.

A rather unique situation has developed in Grenada County relative to the employment of a farm demonstration agent and a home economics agent. It is understood that it was generally accepted as a fact that the constituents of two members of the present board of supervisors of the county knew that they were opposed to the demonstration work when they were campaigning for office in 1927. The supervisors ordered an election to get the will of the voters of the county on retaining the two agents last fall, and while only a minority of the electorate manifested interest enough to go to the polls, nevertheless a majority of those who did vote voted to retain the agents.

Then the question arose as to the salaries that should be paid. It is not any secret that at least three members of the board of supervisors thought the salaries paid were too high hence at the December meeting of the board, the salary of the demonstrator was fixed at twelve hundred dollars and the same amount named for the home economics agent, which, together with the amount these agents would receive out of federal funds, one thousand dollars, it was urged would be adequate. However, it is believed by many that the board of supervisors were ready to "dicker" on the salary proposition, and that the amounts named might have been increased. However, at least three members of the board were fixed in their conviction that four thousand dollars for a farm demonstrator was too much, and in this opinion many of the best business men and farmers of the county agreed. It is urged in opposition to the payment of four thousand dollars that but few men in the county receive that much salary. Many are saying, too, that the home economics agent should be paid as much as the farm agent. Others likewise say that the home economics agents have been receiving a salary much in excess of the most thoroughly educated lady school teachers and that the whole thing has been out of proportion as compared to other salaries.

When the official announcement was made of the salaries fixed, it is understood that the heads of the farm extension forces stated that a demonstrator could not be secured at the salary named, and that they would offer no one. At subsequent meetings of the board, the matter has been brought up and it seems that one of the members has offered a motion each time that the agents be employed at salaries greater than $1200 but less than $3000 and that the vote has been on every occasion three to two against reemployment.

The call for a mass meeting next Monday is signed by seventeen of the representative citizens of the county, all either actually farming or interested in farming. The demonstration work in Grenada County has been in operation about twenty years, and quite a number of the largest taxpayers and men regarded as progressive in all their ideas say that the results have lacked a great deal of being what they should be. On the other hand, many equally concerned about the future of the county assert that it will be a turning back of the wheels to cease the work just at this time, especially in view of the fact that so many of the farmers of the county have within the past eighteen months invested in dairy cattle and that so many are selling milk to creameries. But in answer to this it is argued that the Grenada County Farm Development Association, which has sponsored and furnished the money to back the buying of dairy cattle, has had to employ its own man to look after the dairying interests and that in a sense with a farm agent, there is a duplication of work and two are being paid for what one man ought to do.

It is argued, and with much effectiveness, that had the supervisors not asked the people to express themselves on the proposition, they would be excusable for taking the position they do, and that since they asked for a public expression and got it, it is the duty of the board to continue the work at some reasonable salary.

Editor Sentinel:-

Will you be good enough to publish the following editorial which appeared in the Memphis Cmmercial Appeal of Dec. 8, 1928, under the heading, "Keep the County Agents"? I thank you.

MRS. R. H. McCORMACK
Grenada, Miss., R. F. D.
Feb. 23, 1929.

The editorial to which Mrs. McCormack refers is as follows:

"The outstanding agricultural award of the year, the prize for the grand champion steer at the International Live Stock Exposition, was won Tuesday at Chicago by twelve-year-old Clarence Goecke of Iowa. In winning the most coveted prize at the world's greatest live stock show, the boy triumphed over better financed and more experienced college of agriculture experts from many states and over scores of adult farmers and breeders.

"Young Goecke is a 4-H Club boy. This is the first time the award has not gone to an adult farmer or a college. The grand champion was a pure bred Hereford, selected and bought by the lad a year ago, and raised to the prime weight of 1,150 pounds at sixteen months of age.

"The award marks the progress of 4-H Club work, which has been steady year by year because of its importance in an economic way. A few weeks ago, at the National Dairy Show in Memphis, the 4-H Club members astounded visitors by their remarkable showing of dairy animals, and only this month one of the youngsters who showed at the National, a Kentucky boy, was declared to have the world champion milk producer among the Jersey three-year-olds.

"Through club work, farm boys and girls are being shown how best to farm, and their projects, whether it be with dairy or beef cattle, hogs, cotton, corn or any other farm line, teach them what they are best fitted for. Boys and girls best adapted to farming are bound to stick to a line of farming in which they have found themselves successful. Hence, through the 4-H Clubs, rural education has changed, happily, from the time when teaching of any but the elementary subjects was designed to take the best youths from the farm rather than to hold them there.

"In Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Kentucky this 4-H Club work is one of many things directed by county agents. No group of boys in America has shown such remarkable results in such a short time as those in these states, particularly those raising dairy cattle, cotton and corn.

"The county agents have led the youngsters as well as the adults in the great dairy development that has come in the midsouth.

"But there always is a disappointing angle to any achievement. In this case, it is the failure of some southern counties to stick to their county agent work. Those counties which aspire to become dairying centers, especially those that have made some progress along that line, should retain the county agents. The change from one-crop farming to diversified farming is one that needs trained leadership, such as has been given by the county agents".

Editor Sentinel:-

May I again crave your indulgence? I note from a circular being distributed that a mass meeting is being called for the 4th of March at the court house for the purpose of formulating plans for the reinstatement of the county agents. As I understand the situation, the county board has never refused to employ agents at the salaries fixed by the board. The trouble seems to be that those capable of filling the offices can not be had for the salaries offered.

For a county agent the board offers $1200.00 per year which, added to the thousand dollars offered by the government, makes a total salary of $2200.00 per year. This amount is in the neighborhood of the amount received by the capable and efficient superintendent of education. If efforts are to be rewarded in proportion to the importance of the service rendered, who can say that the county agent should be paid much more than the superintendent of education? Compare the proposed salary of the county agent and that of the tax assessor and contrast the importance of each!

Our county health officer receives $600.00 per year. The board proposes that the county agent be paid a total of $2200.00 per year; that is, 25 cents to the cause of health, man's most priceless heritage, for each dollar contributed to the cause of agriculture. Many believe that that dollar is wasted.

The county prosecuting attorney, who performs most important duties, receives only about 40 per cent of the salary proposed for the agent. The justices of the peace and the constables, while not devoting all of their time to their duties, receive only about ten per cent, very often less than that, of the salary proposed to be paid the agent. Who has the temerity to say that the ferreting out of criminals and the prosecution thereof are of relatively such little importance?

I go about quite a bit and I see that the sun, in its pristine glory, still rises regularly and sets on time; I note that the birds, Nature's own harbingers of approaching spring, sing as sweetly as ever; it still gets muddy when it rains; it is still necessary to put up good security to borrow money; in fact, everything still moves as serenely and as calmly as when we had agents to the tune of $5400.00 expenses to the local taxpayers. Honestly I cannot tell the difference.

I think that the board of supervisors should be commended rather than be condemned for their efforts to reduce expenses. It looks as if the board is damned if it does and equally as thoroughly damned if it does not.

According to my understanding a county agent can be secured for about $3400.00 per year. The board of supervisors offers $1200.00 per year, the government will chip in another thousand, leaving a balance of only $1200.00 to be supplied. Suppose that the gentlemen and ladies who so keenly miss the agents' work chip in, by popular subscription, and make up the other $1200.00. Of course, if a lady demonstrator is to be had, a similar amount obtained in a similar manner, can be raised to augment her salary. Just to settle the matter I, myself, would contribute a small amount to such a fund.

Another scheme is this: let those citizens who are interested in the continuation of the work, get up a legal petition to the board of supervisors calling for a general election on these two questions, viz: (1) "Shall the board employ a county agent at a salary of $3000.00 per year?", and, (2), "Shall the board employ a home economics agent at a salary of $3000.00 per year?". There is no rime or reason in paying the man more than is paid the woman. Each has, supposedly, gone to as expensive and as extensive a preparation for the duties; each has the same maintenance expense; and their work, great or small, is equally as valuable to the community.

To clarify the situation in my own mind, I made a thorough investigation in the records and I find: (1) In 1928 the county agent received $250 per month from the county and $1000.00 per annum from the government, making a total outlay of $4000.00; (2) In 1928 the lady agent was paid $150.00 per month by the county and $1000.00 per annum by the government, a total outlay of $2800.00 per year; and, (3) the negro agent was paid $50.00 per month by the county. If he receved anything from the government, I did not find out the amount, and, (4) the total contribution of the county was $5400.00 and at least $2000.00 by the government; (5) at their December meeting the supervisors did the following things relative to the situation; (a) Refused to reappoint the two agents who were then serving their last month of contract; (b) fixed the salary of the county agent at $1200.00 per year (which supplemented by the government's contribution made $2200.00), (c) fixed the salary of the home economics agent at $1200.00 per year (which supplemented by the government's contribution made $2200.00), (d) fixed the salary of the negro agent at $50.00 per month, and, (e) adjourned until the following Saturday for the purpose of receiving applications for the positions. As far as I could find the record was blank until the January, 1929 meeting, when a motion was made to raise the salary of the county agent to $2400.00 per year and that of the lady agent to $1500.00 per year. Both of those motions were lost. The same motions were made at the February meeting and were again lost. The record shows that A. H. Henderson was re-employed at $50.00 per month.

While the call for the meeting, referred to in the opening paragraph of this letter, did not specifically include those who are NOT interested in the demonstration work, yet I feel sure that such people will be made welcome and that their participation in the meeting will be well received. There are at least three schools of thought in this county, viz: (1) those who believe that we should have agents at whatever cost, (2) those who believe that the salaries fixed by the board are sufficiently large, and (3) those who do not believe that we should have agents at all. Let representatives of each and all schools of thought be present at the meetings to the end that something, other than the views of a possible minority, be promulgated.

It is a great pity that the meeting was called on the very day when the board of supervisors will be immersed in its most important work. It should have been called for a time when the board could have been present, for, when all is said and done, the board seems to hold the key to the situation.

Yours truly,
R. N. BROOKS.

Holy Land Lectures Are Brought To End

Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., Concludes Series of Discourses on Trip through Bible Lands in 1924—Travels in Egypt and Journey Up River Nile Are Interestingly Described. May Write Series Articles on Other Foreign Lands.

(Note by Editor—The following concludes the series of lectures by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., on the Holy Lands. The reader will note that the minister concludes by mentioning visits to other countries and we are trying to persuade him to write some articles on his further travels. We are sure our readers have enjoyed, as we have, the interesting accounts of his journey through the lands of Bible fame.)

In early ages as the Nile made its yearly overflow inundating the valley it became necessary for the people to build canals, dykes, and reservoirs, thus teaching them the science of engineering. This overflow obliterated all landmarks and made necessary the science of surveying and registering lands. The disputes that arose naturally gave rise to law and law courts. Moreover a river running the length of the land, encouraged the art of boat-building and developed commerce.

Antiquity

Nothing so impresses the student of Egypt as the extreme antiquity of her civilization. Age is a relative thing. We in America think the Declaration of Independence belongs to ancient history. In Rome one day I pointed to an old looking ruin as I asked my guide its age: "That" said he, "is quite recent—built only about seven hundred years ago". I told him if he would come home with me I would show him how different was our idea of age. If we are to gain a realizing sense of what our eyes behold in Egypt, we must strengthen the wings of our imagination, and accustom them to longer flights, substituting millenniums for centuries.

When we visit the Holy Land, the Manger at Bethlehem will seem far back in the dim past, but that date reaches only a little more than half-way to the cradle floating among the rushes of the Nile, and the time of Moses does not reach half-way back to Menes, the first king of Egypt. The Pyramids are nearly twice as old as the Ten Commandments. And when our wearied imagination alights on old Cheops, (Pyramid) it must not rest there, but take another longer flight into the dimmer distance of a remoter past far beyond

JITNEY-JUNGLE TO OPEN TOMORROW AT 8:30 A. M.

Saturday, March 2nd, is to be an eventful day in Grenada. It will mark the opening of the first Jitney-Jungle for Grenada on First Street in the building formerly occupied by the Clarence Saunders Store. Jitney-Jungle will be under the ownership and personal management of T. A. Spain and Mrs. J. M. Cooley.

The Jitney-Jungle System of self-service grocery stores is not new. It is eight years old and claims to have revolutionized the retail grocery business and, with its slogan of "Save a Nickel on a Quarter", to have rubberized the pocket-book of more than a half million families it is now serving in 14 states.

The principle of Jitney-Jungle operation, according to Mr. Spain and Mrs. Cooley, is no secret. The franchise privilege provided what is said to be the most convenient and personal shopping fixture equipment in the world, which by its accessibility saves the expense of an army of clerks. The enormous buying-power of the chain is passed to the consumer. The rapid turnover, as compared to the old style grocery store insures fresh merchandise every day. The open door policy of the JITNEY-JUNGLE by continuous newspaper advertising keeps the public always informed on the market trend of all food products. In short, according to Mr. Spain and Mrs. Cooley, the general public becomes partners and co-operators and receives its dividends with every purchase.

The big red and green front store opens Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock and all of Grenada and trade territory are most cordially invited to visit, inspect and participate in the extraordinary opening price savings.

MASONS PLAN FOR GRAND MEET MAR. 14

Local Fraternity Will Be Host to Grand Chapter and Grand Council March 14-15 and Look Forward to Meet.

The Masonic fraternity of Grenada is looking forward with much interest to the state meeting of the Grand Chapter and the Grand Council of Mississippi which is to convene here March 14 and remain in session two days.

It is generally recognized throughout the state among the Masonic fraternity that there is no more wideawake Masonic Lodge in Mississippi than the one at Grenada. It is also generally conceded by Masons that there is no lodge in the state which has more better posted and more enthusiastic members than the Grenada Lodge, from the Blue Lodge up. Among those who have been signally honored by grand meetings of the state and who is up on everything pertaining to Masonry, in short he is as bright as a dollar, is Dr. W. H. Whitaker. Besides Dr. Whitaker, there is T. E. Moody and numerous others of the local fraternity who have been frequently honored by the Grand Lodges. These Masons will take more than delight in playing hosts to the convocation to be had here. Grenada masons are said to have one of the handsomest and most commodious buildings in the state, indeed there are but very few masonic buildings in Mississippi that anyway near approach the building in Grenada.

Among those expected to be present will be the Grand Officers of the Grand Chapter and of the Grand Council besides numerous others of the state who are always keenly interested in any Masonic convocation and who delight in all the work of the fraternity. The officers of the Grand Council are: Clarence L. Cullens, deputy grand master; principal conductor, L. S. Lipincott; grand treasurer, J. F. Dixon; grand recorder, E. L. Faucett; grand chaplain, Rev. R. P. Nebelet; grand lecturer, W. H. Carter; grand counductor, R. G. Ville; grand stewart, E. R. Feasell; grand marshall, Morris Goldstein; grand sentinel, W. E. Johnson. A number of these are also grand officers of the Grand Chapter. L. A. Benoist, of Natchez, is the grand high priest and Seymour S. Black, also of Natchez, is deputy grand high priest. The grand secretary is E. L. Faucette of Meridian.

It may be taken for granted that the local Masons will leave nothing undone to make the coming meeting one of the most delightful in the history of Mississippi masonry, and one of the chief ones who may be counted on to give every detail of the coming meet the proper attention is T. E. Moody, local secretary, and one of the grand officers. Mr. Moody believes in masonry and is one of those sturdy, solid characters who can be relied to do his best in every good work.

TRIP TO NEW YORK CITY DELAYS SIGNING CONTRACT

A business trip to New York City by the attorney for the overall manufacturers, here for a conference Feb. 16 with Grenada business men to agree to terms under which they would establish a plant here, has delayed the return of a signed contract stipulating every condition of the verbal agreement at the conference. The contract was forwarded to the company's head office Feb. 18 and was to have been returned immediately. It is expected almost any day now and just as soon as the signed acceptance is in the hands of local citizens, work on the plant will begin.

Several thousand dollars of the $25,000 in preferred stock remains unsold but it is thought that no difficulty will be experienced in getting Grenada business interests to subscribe to the balance.

ASKS IF TAXPAYERS PAY FOR "JOY RIDES"

Editor Sentinel:

I notice in the Commercial Appeal that our Governor says that the Know Mississippi Better train is nothing more nor less than a "pleasure trip and joy ride for the participants" and he thinks he will not sign the warrants to pay the expenses of those who go.

In another issue we read that our Governor and staff are to take a "joy ride" to Hoover's inauguration. Do the already overburdened taxpayers have to pay for these "joy rides"?

Respectfully,
TAXPAYER

Middle Life Troubles

"About twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time.

"I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF GRENADA COUNTY AND CITY OF GRENADA

REV. R. A. TUCKER.

The world is the loser by the "death" of the Rev. Randolph A. Tucker. Yet we know he is not dead. We always prefer, when possible, to use another word. Grenada is the loser by his departure. The North Mississippi Conference of the Methodist church is the loser. The cause of the religion of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ is the loser when we think in terms of the world. Thousands all over the state who knew him as a friend are losers. He will be missed in hundreds of ways. His noble wife and loving daughter are drinking deep of the cup of sorrow which is being held to their lips.

Brother Tucker "fought a good fight, he kept the faith" and has been called to that home of which Christ so beautifully and so assuringly spoke. The mysteries of life are unfathomable. The mysteries of death cannot be measured or understood. But there are hundreds, yea thousands, of things that we come in contact with every day, many of which are converted to our personal uses, that we cannot explain. We are acquainted with them but do not know them.

Mr. Tucker came from a Christian home. He was true to his early teachings. He was a scatterer of sunshine. He planted flowers by the wayside which will serve to give the world an aroma and cause many to see that radiance and that beauty in life that mean a quickening of the nobler impulses, and that finally reach the portals of glory. He did many things that will serve as a rainbow in the skies and that will place a halo athwart many brows which but reflect that effulgence that emanates only from that blissful abode where all is ever well and happy.

Mr. Tucker was intensely human. He never lowered the flag of the Master. He met the world as we see it on its own footing, yet he never compromised, he never denied, but always and on all occasions made known that he was a child of the King. He was a practical man; he was a commonsense man and a commonsense minister of the gospel. He took a delight in personal service; he was happy in serving a friend. And now that the silver chord has been severed and the golden pitcher broken, and his earthly sojourn has been ended, let us left on this shore gather up the many noble and beautiful elements of his life and make them a part of our own. Maybe the Master is expecting some of us who are left behind to carry on where he left off.

The writer drops a tear with his loved ones who are broken of heart. We have lost a friend.

THE MASS MEETING MONDAY.

We are publishing in our news columns of this issue a call, signed by a number of representative people, for a mass meeting of citzens of Grenada county interested in demonstration work, the meeting to be held at the courthouse next Monday morning. The call states that the county voted for the demonstration work last November and that the will of the voters is not being carried out. It states also that it is hoped that some plan might be worked out whereby the demonstration work would be reinstated in the county.

This paper was a by-stander, so to speak, in the election held last November. We regarded the matter as one for the farmers to decide. It was our judgment and is now that if the people of the rural sections wanted the agents, they should have them. The returns indicated that it was the will of those residing in the country that the agents be retained. Of course the members of the board of supervisors are the keepers of the finances of the county, and at last the duty devolves upon them to say how much, if any, shall be expended for any particular thing or work.

The board fixed the salaries at twelve hundred dollars, figures so low that it was impossible for any agent worth while to accept employment. Speaking for ourselves, under the circumstances, we can say that had we been a member of the board, we would have voted to retain the agents, and by this statement, we do not mean to say that the demonstration agent should receive, both from the county and the federal government, a total of $4,000. per annum. Three thousand, in our judgment, would be about the correct figure, two thousand to be paid by the county and one thousand dollars to be paid by the federal government. This, we think, would make the place right attractive, and should net fully $2500. And right here we will observe that we have little sympathy with the idea that the demonstrator should be paid so much more than the home economics agent. Her work, we dare say, requires as much preparation and as much time as that necessary for the demonstrator.

We are free to say that if left to our judgment alone, we would not employ the demonstrators at the present time, however, we appreciate the force of much of the argument put forward for their appointment.

Our judgment is that they have not functioned as they should. What we would have them do is to visit at their homes and on their farms the individual farmer instead of holding so many socalled "community meets".

We have heard too many "one-horse", small farmers say that the agents never visited them but that, to the contrary, they spent the greater part of their time with the larger and more prosperous farmers. We have made no endeavor to check up on these statements and do not vouch for their accuracy.

Grenada County has been employing demonstrators for many years, yet the county has made no startling or extraordinary progress in an agricultural way. The majority of Grenada county farms are still under mortgage and the end is not yet in sight. But if the people want the demonstrators—and they have said by their ballots that they do—we say let them have them.

If the supervisors had made the salary cuts before the election was held, they might properly adhere to the stand they have adopted. But since they did not do that, we think they are not being consistent. Only one supervisor, of the three holding out for the low salary figures, can with consistency maintain his attitude because his district was the only one opposing the demonstration work.

Again we say if the people want demonstrators let them be served—but do not pay them over $2,000 from county funds.

Menes if we would reach the beginning of Egyptian civilization.

Religion had a large place in the life of this people, and the principle of life and the fact of death occupied a large place in their religion. This was natural, for Egypt itself was and is an oasis of life between two deserts of death, and the contrast was strong, sharp and constant. Having their many Gods, the male, female and offspring god of those two gods, their making of these developed the art of sculpture. The Egyptian art may claim a priority over Grecian of more than 3000 years. That is, Egyptian art is as much older than Grecian, as Grecian is older than American. The Architecture of this country may be chiefly characterized by its massiveness which, together with the dryness of the climate, accounts for its astonishing permanence. The Egyptians thousands of years ago we believe were even better astronomers than any in the world even today. The Ptolemaic system of astronomy was taught in Yale until just recently, which system was in use in Egypt thousands of years ago. Their literature was of a most varied character. Even 800 years before Abraham they had works which are still preserved on morals, religion, education, science, magic, travels, short stories, fables, heroic poems, love songs, essays, hymns, dirges, rituals, etc. The translation of all these writings was made possible through the discovery of the Rosetta stone in 1798, during Napoleon's campaign in Egypt. While digging for treasures one of his men discovered a black granite stone containing three inscriptions. The first was in the strange character found everywhere on the monuments and temples; the next was in the vernacular; the third was in Greek. The Greek, of course, was easily read, and through research the other two languages told the same story as the Greek. Therefore the key to all Egyptian writing was found, and through this, all the language of the country of old can be read correctly.

Cities Built by the Israelites

A short distance from Cairo we visited the two cities, or rather ruins of the two cities, Pithom and Raamesis, built by the Israelites while in bondage, the account of which is given in the early chapters of Exodus. Here can be seen the walls with straw brick at the base and brick without straw at the top. (Read the first and fifth chapters of Exodus).

The Pyramids and Sphinx

We do not need camels and food supply to make a trip to the Pyramids, although on the desert, twenty minutes by automobile will take you from the center of Cairo to this great sight. And this was the way we traveled, for two miles beyond the Nile which runs by Cairo we were at the foot of the Pyramids. Here we looked upon the same sight with no change that Moses, Abraham, Joseph, Mark Anthony, Cleopatra, Napoleon and others looked upon. The Pyramid Cheops was originally 483 feet in height but during the reign of Sultan Hassan the surface stones were removed at his command for the purpose of building a Mosque in the city to bear his name. This lowered the pyramid to its present height which is 451 feet. By removing these stones the secret of the pyramids was found. They were the tombs of great rulers of Egypt. The removal of the stones revealed an opening to the massive structure, and on entering they found what we found; a long inclined spiral passageway which led to a large room 300 feet or more above the level of the ground. In this room is a sarcophagus which held the body of the king, which now is in the museum. Above this room is another room, smaller, entered through a door in the corner of this room's ceiling. This room held the body of the queen. But we did not tarry long in this damp stuffy interior, but made our exit. On leaving we noticed how perfectly all the stones were placed together. You can barely get a pinhead between two of them. The stones in the pyramid average two and one-half tons in weight. Yet they were all moved three miles at least and across the Nile to be placed here. Someone has estimated that it would take 100,000 men twenty years to rear such a structure if man power alone was used. The pyramid covers 13 acres of ground, is 750 feet in length on each side. We climbed the pyramid and had a fine view of the city and the Nile and surrounding country.

The sphinx not far from the Pyramids is also a massive structure. A man's head with the body of a lion crouching is 190 feet long and 66 feet in height. Near the Sphinx excavating still unfolds mysteries and secrets that have been held for thousands of years. They have found an immense temple far below the surface of the present level of the desert. Similar events are taking place in Memphis not far from Cairo. There is no telling what treasures might be found if two hundred feet of Egypt's surface could be removed.

Cairo

Cairo is a city of about 800,000 people. It is undoubtedly the most interesting and fascinating city on the globe as well as the most cosmopolitan. Here you see people from every nation of the world in their national dress. It furnishes unlimited opportunities of seeing Oriental life and environment, and at the same time travelers can live at the most modern of hotels. The fact that Cairo is a military city, with English soldiers, Arab Lancers, Soudanese infantry and Egyptian cavalry, all in a picturesque variety of uniforms, adds not a little to the Kaleidoscopic effect of the city streets. Here the old meets the new. We saw right where traffic is heaviest; camel trains, donkey trains, American made automobiles, wagons, wheelbarrows, trolley cars, all passing each other. On the side of the street we saw a cow tied, with her owner cup in hand selling milk, direct from producer to consumer, and I watched two men drink the

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

The regular meeting of the teachers of the rural and consolidated schools of the county was held at the courthouse on Saturday at 10 o'clock with the largest attendance of the session. The county superintendent of education, Lafayette Atkinson, discussed with the teachers the completion of the enumeration of the educable children of the county which is being taken and completed during the month of February, the election of a trustee for the various schools of the county to serve for the next three year term, term reports of teachers to be made at the close of school and the annual meeting of trustees to be held at the courthouse, March 4th, at 10 o'clock.

The program was interesting and enjoyable to all those in attendance. Rev. W. E. Farr read the scripture, offered prayer and discussed faith as the surest method by which the individual can conquer doubt, fear, disappointment, and sin.

The principal address of the occasion was made by Dr. J. R. Countiss, president of Grenada College. His subject dealt with the question of the moral and religious education of the children of today. His discussion was instructive and inspiring to all those present.

MERCHANTS OF MID-SOUTH TO BE GUESTS OF MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 27.—Merchants of the Mid-South will be guests of Memphis manufacturers and wholesalers during Spring Buyers' Week, March 4-9. The Chamber of Commerce, through its Mid-South Development Committee, is cooperating in plans to make this the biggest merchandising event of the year.

Invitations have been sent out to merchants throughout the territory asking them to come to Memphis or to send their buyers to take advantage of the opportunities afforded them in their closest big market.

W. R. King, vice president and general manager of the William R. Moore Dry Goods Company, is general chairman of the committee representing the wholesalers and manufacturers. George B. Jones, manager of the N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company and a native of Grenada, Miss., is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee.

"Complete stocks of seasonable merchandise assembled with the needs of the Mid-South merchants in mind will be on display by the wholesalers and manufacturers", Mr. King says. "Prices are right, freight rates are lower and delivery is quicker than in rival markets".

"A visit to Memphis during Spring Buyers' Week enables the visiting merchants to see for themselves the merchandise offered by the manufacturers and jobbers. It brings them into closer personal contact with the concerns from which they buy, besides giving them the opportunity to get better acquainted with other merchants throughout the territory", Mr. Jones says.

The Made in Memphis Exposition at the auditorium will be in progress during Spring Buyers' Week and is an added attraction.

Railroad fares will be refunded to visiting buyers.

LOCAL, SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Edited by Mrs. E. R. Proudfit

Class Entertained.

Mrs. Frank Matthews was the gracious hostess last Thursday evening to the members of her Sunday School class and an invited guest for each one, at a beautifully planned Washington's birthday party, at her home on Line Street.

The patriotic motifs, flags, hatchets and miniature cherry trees, were used throughout the rooms thrown open to the guests.

The five tables where Bunco was played were decorated with the following "miniatures": Betsy Ross, George Washington, Martha Washington and a cherry tree. A patriotic game was played at the head table, and the winners at each table progressed.

The partners were matched with pied tallies in red, white and blue, with rhymes designating the number of the table.

The delicious salad course further carried out the patriotic emblem with molded cherry salad, decorated with a small hatchet, red and white sandwiches and hot chocolate. Red and white hard candies were served in dainty little red baskets.

The following members of the class, which is known as the J. O. Y. class of the young people's department, and their guests, were present: Misses Thelma Jackson, Mary Ida Sharp, Sara Cunningham, Margaret Minter, Addie Laura Dubard, Ruth Austin, Louise Odom, Edith Bell, Mary Violet Collier, Dayle Hodge and Sarah Bell, Messrs. Harold LeDuke, Lewis Dubard, Lester McFarland, Fred Wagner, Marcellus Dubard, Leslie Hill, Kenneth Tucker, Peyton Irby, Orin Melton and Hugh Cunningham.

Mr. Matthews assisted Mrs. Matthews greatly in entertaining her guests as did Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson, in carrying out the evening's program.

Misses Elizabeth Holder and Mary Lou Bell assisted in serving refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Hughes, of Memphis, spent last Thursday in Grenada.

College Observes Birthday.

Washington's birthday was fittingly commemorated by Grenada College students and several guests with a splendid patriotic program and a lovely four-course dinner in the college dining hall, last Thursday evening.

The tables were beautifully decorated with tiny flags of red, white and blue, and red and blue candles in white candlesticks. Place cards were program booklets of white and red, having a blue star on the cover page.

Students and guests were costumed as in the days of Washington, with Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Countiss representing George and Martha Washington.

Miss Mary Miller Murray, president of the student body, was toastmistress, and presented the speakers in a most appropriate manner.

Miss Evelyn Barrow pictured "The Age of the Pioneers". She was followed by Miss Adele Mounger, who spoke on "The Struggle for Independence". Miss Marie Moore gave "The Founding of the American Nationality". Miss Mary Charlotte Clark closed the program with a talk on "America of the Future".

The program was well planned and the speakers gave in a most entertaining way the high points of American history from the beginning to the present day.

The Washington dinner is an annual affair at Grenada College to which the students look forward with much pleasure, many former students returning for the delightful event.

Memorial for Dr. Tucker.

Special memorial services for the late Rev. R. A. Tucker were held at chapel exercises Wednesday morning at Grenada College.

Dr. J. R. Countiss gave the chief points of Mr. Tucker's life as related to Grenada College and spoke of the many things done by him for the college through his friendship and interest. Mr. Tucker was one of the trustees of the college and will be sadly missed.

In his remarks, Dr. Countiss also dwelt on the influence for good which was felt not only in the college but in the town as well. Several fitting hymns were sung and sympathy for the bereaved widow and daughter expressed..

PETITION FOR PARDON

To His Excellency,
Honorable Theo. G. Bilbo,
Governor of The State of Mississippi:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the State of Mississippi, hereby most respectfully petition Your Excellency to grant a full and complete pardon to John James Howard who was convicted at the January Term, 1928 of the Circuit Court of Grenada County, Mississippi and sentenced to serve a term of ten years on a charge of Arson.

We would respectfully show unto Your Excellency that since the incarceration of Howard in the penitentiary, he has made a model prisoner, and for that reason, was soon made a trusty and assigned to the duty of guarding the other convicts, not trusties, while at work in the field; that on the 12th day of February, 1929, while thus engaged as a trusty on duty as a guard, one Sandy Allred, a reputed desperate convict, attempted to escape, and in so doing, detached a single tree from his plow and advanced upon the driver with the statement that he was going home; while thus advancing upon the driver, who was not armed at the time, and in repeating the statement above mentioned, the said Howard, acting upon instructions from the driver to stop him fired upon the said Allred, wounding him, and thus preventing him probably seriously injuring or killing the driver, and also preventing his escape; that the said Howard has, in our opinion, been sufficiently punished, and we believe the ends of justice have been met and the law satisfied. And we further believe that if allowed his freedom, the said Howard will hereafter conduct himself above reproach and as a law-abiding citizen. Respectfully submitted.

LECTURES ON BOOKS AND READING HERE MARCH 7

H. L. Cecil, representing the National Association of Book Publishers, who will lecture in Grenada Thursday, March 7, comes here at the invitation of the Mississippi Library Commission. The purpose of the lectures is to stimulate a greater community interest in books and reading, to increase the use of libraries and to prompt the establishment of libraries in localities not already possessing them.

Mr. Cecil is to deliver three lectures in Grenada, the first of which is to be given at Grenada College at 10 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, March 7. The second is at the high school at 2:30 p. m. and one hour later he will talk to the parents of Grenada in the school auditorium.

His addresses are full of splendid suggestions about reading and what to read and he should be given good audiences here.

In this very brief period the new Nash "400" has completely changed the automobile picture of America.

With unmistakable enthusiasm, motorists everywhere have placed their stamp of approval upon this new Nash—making it, by a tremendous marg recognized as the center of the cational life of Islam, founded er 1000 years ago, and added to ar by year, it stands today an mense institution of over 10,- 0 students, with about 450 pro- ssors. Here you see sections for bians, Algerians, Moroccans d in fact for students from ry section of Islam. Social nding here makes no difference the poor and rich, the high and must sit one beside the other. ny of these students above hty years of age have been re all their life. No tuition, no ard, and in cases clothing fur- shed—easy life! The method of aching is almost wholly in train- ing the memory, there being noth- ing to develop independence of thought. As a consequence, there is little original work done, and little advancement made.

The El-Azhar University

The Museum

is one of the most interesting, if not the most interesting in all the world from the standpoint of anti- quity. Here we look upon the body of the Pharaoh who would not let the Israelites go, and on whom God sent the plagues. Here can be seen treasures taken from tombs valued in the billions. We spent two days in the museum, but here I cannot mention all the interest- ing sights seen there.

A Trip Up the Nile

should never be left off in one's itinerary for there are some most interesting sights along this route which goes along the river bank through the fertile valley if made by train. We left Cairo one night and the next morning about ten we were at Luxor and Thebes far up the Nile. The sunrise was beauti- ful that morning, and we managed to see some of the life of these people as we traveled along on a comfortable train. Plowing their fields here with oxen hitched to one handed plough, and there with a modern tractor. We saw the means used for lifting water out of the Nile for irrigation of fields some miles from the banks. We saw that which reminded us of our dear Southland, in fields of beautiful cotton, snow white. I

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM
COURTESY EFFICIENT SERVICE ALWAYS

LAND GRANTS

The expenditure of public funds to build canals and improve rivers for navigation is often compared to the land grants that were made by the government to aid the construction of some pioneer railroads. The fact is that such expenditures and land grants are different in several important particulars.

Take the grant of land in Illinois to the original Illinois Central Railroad. It was the first of the federal land grants for railroads.

There is no question of the substantial help which the Illinois Central Railroad derived from this grant. Without such help the road could not have been built at the time it was built, in advance of the settlement of interior Illinois. Yet the government gave away nothing of value, for there was no one to buy the land until the railroad provided a reliable means of transportation.

On the other hand, the government received something of great value. The building of the Illinois Central Railroad enabled the government to sell at advanced prices the land it had retained and thereby recoup immediately the full price of the entire land grant. Moreover, taxable property was permanently created, the Illinois Central obligated itself forever to carry mail, troops and other government traffic at reduced rates, and a special tax was levied upon behalf of the state of Illinois which is still being regularly collected after more than seventy years.

Government expenditures on inland waterways are different. They are valuable at the time they are made, the beneficiaries give nothing for them, and where the government itself goes into the transportation business there is no increase in taxable property values.

Government assistance to inland waterways truly comparable to the Illinois Central land grant would be the donation of stretches of unimproved streams and adjacent worthless land, the recipients to make all improvements themselves, pay special taxes and handle government traffic at reduced rates.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Illinois Central System.

Lesson for March 3

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

LESSON TEXT—Eph. 1:22, 23:4:4-6, 11-16.

GOLDEN TEXT—So we, who are many, are one body in Christ.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Serving God in Our Church.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Serving God in Our Church.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Meaning of Church Membership.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Nature and Function of the Christian Church.

I. What It Is.

It is the body of redeemed men and women, Jews and Gentiles, called out from the world, regenerated and united to Jesus Christ as head, and to each other by the Holy Spirit.

1. It was unknown in the Old Testament time (Eph. 3:5, 6).

There were saved people in that time, but people occupying the peculiar position as members of Christ's body only could enjoy such relation after the crucifixion, and coming of the Holy Spirit.

2. Predicted by Christ (Matt. 16:18).

Shortly before Christ's going to the cross, the church was spoken of as still in the future.

3. It began at Pentecost (Acts 2).

That which Christ predicted as to the church began to be historically fulfilled on the Day of Pentecost.

II. Christ Is the Head of the Church (Eph. 1:22, 23).

Christ is to the church what the head is to the human body.

III. The Unity of the Church (Eph. 4:4-6).

1. One body (v. 4).

United with Christ by faith, all believers are members of one body, of which He is the head.

2. One Spirit (v. 4).

The Holy Spirit is the agent in regeneration, and is the life uniting believers to Christ and to one another.

3. One hope (v. 4).

The hope of completed redemption at the coming of the Lord.

4. One Lord.

The one ruler of the church is Christ Himself (v. 5).

5. One faith.

Those who are under the control of the one Lord will more and more come into the unity of doctrinal beliefs.

6. One baptism (v. 5).

This is the baptism of the Holy Spirit, which is that sovereign act of the Spirit which unites believers to Jesus Christ as head and to each other as members of His body.

7. One God and Father of all.

He is the Creator and sustainer of the universe.

IV. The Ministry of the Church. (Eph. 4:11-16).

1. The ministry of certain officials (v. 11).

Gifts were bestowed upon the church and its growth.

(1) Apostles. These were appointed by Christ to superintend the preaching of the gospel in all the world, and to create an authoritative body of teaching.

(2) Prophets. These ministers were given for the expounding of the Scriptures, the body of authoritative teaching (I Cor. 14:3).

(3) Evangelists. These seem to have been traveling missionaries to gather in the members constituting the body of Christ.

(4) Pastors and teachers. The pastor was a shepherd and teacher—two functions inherent in the one office.

2. Objects of the ministry of the church (v. 12).

(1) "Perfecting of the saints."

Here is meant the mending of that which had been rent—the adjusting of something dislocated.

(2) "For the work of the ministry (v. 12).

The perfecting of the saints has as its object their qualification to render a spiritual service.

(3) Edifying of the body of Christ.

Edify means to build up the church, the body of Christ.

3. The duration of the church's ministry (v. 13).

This ministry to continue till:

(1) We come into the unity of the faith.

(2) Till we come into the knowledge of the Son of God.

(3) A perfect man, which is the measure of the stature of Christ.

4. The blessed issue of the ministry of the church (vv. 14-16)

(1) Not tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine.

(2) Speaking the truth in love.

did not at all care for our ride to end as the views from the window were so interesting and beautiful, but finally the train came to a stop at a town of a few thousand inhabitants on the bank of the Nile. The moment we stepped off the train we were handed two brushes, to keep the flies off us. We had to keep these brushes in motion for the entire two days we were here too, with the exception of being in screened rooms, and while far out on the desert. I have never seen as many flies in my life, and hope I shall never again. The inhabitants seem accustomed to them for many we saw with dozens of flies on their face, and when one would pass you on the street his back looked like a fly-paper they were so thickly studded thereon. I will not describe the three towns of Thebes, Luxor and Karnak, nor will I describe the ruined temples here for in shape and age they are practically as all others of Egypt. In appearance they are antique, and Oriental, and here great Kings once made their abode. Here are found temples to their Gods, all in ruins today. But let us cross the river and go several miles through the desert and visit the

and others, or better known as the "Valley of the Kings". All these tombs are far underneath a mountain of limestone without one bit of vegetation; just a stone mountain in the desert, which shows that this section is not today what it once was. Some of the tombs have long passageways and as many as sixteen and fourteen rooms in them. The treasures are in Cairo now, but were here for thousands of years until discovered. The walls and ceilings are as smooth as glass, yet composed of solid rock from which they were hewn—no sign of what instruments or tools they used in this work. On all the walls are painted in bright colors, birds, characters, etc. The color as good as though it were fresh. At the time we entered King Tut's tomb all the treasures had not been removed, nor had his body. The lid of the sarcophagus which is supposed to be a likeness of the body, is studded with the most precious gems, the lid alone is valued at $15,000,000.00. Besides this treasure, there were golden beds, chairs, chariots, etc. in the tomb. The discovery of this tomb is a most interesting account.

After two days up the Nile, we returned to the interesting city of Cairo, where we spent several more days, thence, to Alexandria where we embarked for Italy, Europe, and the British Isles. But this article concludes my series on the Holy Land, and I have enjoyed both delivering and writing them for you.

After seeing all these sights, these ruins of a people who were termed great by the world, yet who worshipped other than the true God, one cannot help but be impressed by the helplessness of all man made religions, the futility of all opposition to God, the smallness of mere material achievement, and the transcience of all earthly glory. They who serve God are the benefactors of nations, and there is nothing great but God.

I. C. RAILROAD EMPLOYEES ORGANIZE BOOSTER CLUB

Local employees of the Illinois Central Railroad Company held a meeting in the freight office of E. M. Sherwiod, agent, on Tuesday, February 19th, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a Booster Club.

Despite the inclement weather there were 33 officers and employees present. Seventeen additional employees who were not able to be present expressed a desire to join, making a total enrollment of fifty.

The meeting was called to order by temporary chairman N. W. Spangler, trainmaster, whose opening remarks outlined the purpose and intent of the Booster Club along business and social lines.

The club proceeded to elect permanent officers for 1929, resulting in the unanimous selection of Agent E. M. Sherwood as chairman and Sam H. Garner as secretary.

Special committees were appointed by the chairman and since their reports have been turned in, it seems that the Illinois Central Railroad Company means a great deal to the general upkeep and maintenance of Grenada County and to the City Beautiful.

Among some of the things discovered were:

That the Illinois Central Railroad Company has a total of 1409 employees on the Mississippi Division within the State of Mississippi;

That their annual wages are $1,424,306;

That there are 152 men employed at Grenada and Tie Plant;

That their members of families and dependents number 378;

That their annual wages are $196,427.11;

That this is just one-fifteenth of Grenada's population;

That the taxes paid to Grenada, city and county, for 1928 were $65,208.00;

That the city and county schools get a good portion of this sum;

That a large percentage of local employees own their homes and that personal and real estate taxes paid by them add quite a nice sum to the amount of taxes paid;

That the merchants of Grenada enjoy a good amount of railroad wages;

That they consider the railroad employees among their best customers.

Attention was called to the fact that while the railroad is endeavoring to improve its service at all times, large sums of money are being spent for equipment, power, etc., it finds that large inroads are being made on its revenues by unfair competition of freight and passenger vehicles that use the public highways which have been constructed at the expense of the taxpayers.

Instructive talks were made by M. L. Hays, supervising agent, and Mr. Spangler, who were visitors, and others. Chairman Sherwood told of the pleasant relations between the business men of Grenada and railroad employees, and on account of his implicit confidence in their fairness, he is of the opinion that it will only be necessary to have the members of this club call their attention to the seriousness of the situation, as a continued reduction in the tonnage received at this station will finally result in a reduction of the force employed, and a loss of revenue to the city of Grenada.

Everyone present assured the chairman of his cooperation in looking to the success of the efforts of this club and hoped to have favorable reports to make at their next meeting.

BOND TO ADDRESS TRUSTEES

As required by law, the annual meeting of the trustees of the rural and consolidated schools of the county will be held at the courthouse in Grenada, at 10 o'clock, Monday, March 4th. The county superintendent of education, Lafayette Atkinson, urges the trustees of all schools to be present at this time. Hon. W. F. Bond, state superintendent of education, will address the trustees of the schools, patrons and citizens of the county at the meeting. Everyone is invited to be present and hear him discuss some of the important questions confronting the educational field at the present time.

You Pay For PAVED ROADS
Why Not Get Them?

The gravel surfaces on the main trunk-line highways of Mississippi cannot be kept in condition for comfortable driving under modern traffic. Chuck-holes and ruts are formed by the constant pounding of traffic. In dry weather the dust is choking—and takes its toll of damage to the moving parts of the automobile.

The Iowa Highway Commission has found that automobile tire cost alone is twice as much on gravel roads as on paved roads. The cost of properly maintaining a gravel road is excessive—and is increasing, because traffic is increasing.

So it has been truly said, "You pay for paved roads, whether you have them or not."

The Houston Chronicle says in an editorial: "Of all things in this world today, the most rentable thing is a concrete road or a road of comparable type. There is absolutely nothing for which there is as much demand. But you have to have it before you can rent it. Gasoline tax is road rent. By increasing thousands the customers are ready to pay that rent. But you can't rent them until you have them."

Let Mississippi have these roads to rent, and the quickest way to get them and the most sensible method of finance is by issuance of bonds, the principal and interest of which will be retired by our present gasoline tax. Motorists are paying for roads they do not have under the present plan—and they will bear all the cost under the bond-issue plan.

"Not Taxes But Road Rent"

Think that over! Talk with your representatives in the Legislature about it! Mississippi needs paved roads!
